

Hash 527..Watermans Arms,Bow Bridge..Hares: Bootsie & FourEyes

Trust Bootsie and Four Eyes to find a pub in receivership(no down downs but see later). All assembled in the car park waiting for Goolie to bring his Gas Gussler - late as usual!. After Goolie had parked up avoiding stray dogs Jailer (stand in GM) welcomed a Drake hasher, notices were given out and finally Bootsie gave his usual pack of lies re the hash!.

We exited UP HILL for 3 miles, no checks, or flour then a DOWNHILL past the mangelworsells to the CHECK. There was much dog barking as we continued onto the short split enabling the knitting circle to get back as soon as possible to the Watermans Arms. Having got rid of the wimps the trail became enjoyable with some interesting byways towards Cornworthy (where some did their own deviation before joining the trail further on!). The Woodland Trust added some more OFF ROAD. Owing to lack of marks those intrepid Medium runners did their own thing adding more pandemonium to the proceedings. However all was forgiven once they were back into the bosom of the Snug and some "good value food" Fallen Woman commented.

Once everyone had fed and watered, Goolie the RA for the night told us about the other antics and happenings on the hash. The Hares were thanked but criticised in the same sentence saying too much hill to start and not enough marks!! Ging Gang and Knickers out on the loose for the night spied men in a car and caused an accident of two cars by flashing their boobs to the occupants of the cars!! - what next!! Arsesole and John were once again spied holding hands, canoodling etc - do we want to know more!! JP was seen being too serious a runner by doing stretching exercises before the hash - commenting when asked what he was doing saying he was keeping the wall up!! B.S.E. arrived late so was on catch up all the way round, consequently getting lost somewhere around Cornworthy. A friendly! man in car offered to give her a lift back to the pub - but being a true hasher(or not wanting a down down) she refused. She did eventually find the trail back through the woods. Bone Idle had complained to Goolie that hashers were calling her BONIO which she did not like as she is not a dog - she said!! Looks like the blond look is catching on - Pudsley and Winnie were spotted with this new hair style.

Downs Downs were then awarded - this is when it got complicated as Four eyes and Bone Idle refused their down down of a half pint of beer so Pudsley and T.B. offered to drink it instead. The Hares Bootsie and Four Eyes were given their yellow 300 hashes T Shirt.
