

Hash 536 Kingsbridge. On down The Seven Stars. Hares, HT2 & Endo

The Scribe late as usual dumped his car in Somerfields car park and joined hash in passing. Missed the usual ramblings from the Gm so had to rely on the gossips later. Ok the run, firstly the Hares HT2 & Endo did a great job, considering they were planning the hash for the Seven Stars at Totnes (woops), the trail was laid on the hoof with HT2 navigating with a map and Endo laying the trail, a recipe for disaster there "Women can't read maps. Men don't listen" but saying that it seem to go well. Oh apart from that huge field that no one could find there way out of and that included the hares complete with map, after 2 laps the pack decided to follow Slipstream who had casually strolled to the gate at the top corner having missed 1.5 miles around the field. Complaints from Pullit I was not calling lies of course she she was just too slow and to far behind to hear. The run at first appeared to be uneventful, though was very well laid with the pack staying together thanks to huge field with no apparent exit, Back at the pub there was a strange absence of information coming to the scribe, but then of course the alcohol eventually kicked in, and oh how it loosens those tongues.

Broken Man moaning no checks kicked out.

Hugh 'n' Cry moaning about the pile ups.....? Not sure about that one. May be it was that the three dogs that pooped in the same place.

Big Foot moaning he was running alone..... please look out for him next time he is the tall bloke

Big Foot moaning he was wedged up a back alley that was a bit too small for him... not sure who's back alley it was.

Dulux moaning about big fields.

Pooshit forced over Style by dog..... doesnt bear thinking about.

Gary Glitter claiming that Julie Andrews had been beaten up by his wife Drop Dead Gorgeous.

Suddenly things are looking up, tongues wagging and moaners have started moaning in true hash fashion.

Oh our short cutters for the night were of course Jailer that goes without saying but also Dulux who followed him along with Nutcracker and Shortie claiming knackered knees as the excuse. No excuse for Jailer he just wanted to get to the bar first. A true hasher.

BSE had a bloodied leg after a tangle with a bramble..... sounds like a dodgy short cut to me.

BSE shocked that Jailer was in front..... no shocks there he just took a bigger short cut than you.

Meavy in the brambles..... we will assume that was a short cut as well.

Gospel according to Wellard & Screwloose that Goolie was consumed with discussing the merits of Blondes & Brunettes (so nothing new there then). But while on the the subject of Goolie he was also caught trying to get a laid with Holly the virgins girlfriend. Now much has been made lately about young lovers kissing and cuddling on our hashes, but there is a limit as to what can be tolerated. When the Oldies start start holding hands, singing and skipping, namely Gingang and Goolie it makes you wonder what our hash is coming to.

Bimbo took a bit of a tumble, well actually without exaggerating too much it was, Three flips with four twists and a Double somersault resulting in damaged chin (poor girl), Tony the Triad or is it Triathlon one of our newer hashers suggested she got plastered seems like he is getting the idea of this hashing thing. WindyPuff had a case of mistaken identity thought Tony was Björn Borg.

Back to the moaning, and now this involves Beer so we take this very seriously. Apparently (as i was not there , late as usual) the Hares in there misguided wisdom offered free Beer to Hashers (what fools) who could get home before them, like Red Rag to a Bull. Free Beer no wonder Jailer took a short cut. But the complaint is from Julie Andrews who claims he justly completed the challenge only to be told by the Hares that the goal post had been moved not only does he feel cheated but more importantly we now have hasher deprived of Beer a sad day for hashing.

On the hash we had 1 virgin Jonathan a teaching student staying with No Thatch we had another girl nearly a virgin but not sure who that was.

Woof Woof & Doggin will be doing there last hash next week at East Allington as they are making a new nest in Exeter. According to HT2, Woof Woof has been hashing for 19 years.

Non runners were Marigold and Comes Early, no excuse, but apparently had plans to get to the free Buffet first.

Troughie handed the reins of RA to Piddler who was described as politicly correct. Congratulations to Cowpat for putting up with Troughie for 35 years and also to Argie and Whinnie who share the same wedding day.

Down Downs, I have no idea I was not paying attention. On On to East Allington.

Slipstream.
